Wreck victims remain in hospital

By Mark Millican
markmillican@daltoncitizen.com

Two survivors of a wreck that claimed two lives Thursday on Tibbs Bridge Road were still in Hamilton Medical Center on Friday.

Lloyd Singleton, 81, of 4804-F Tibbs Bridge Road, was in critical condition, and his son, Freddie "Joey" Singleton, 46, was in serious condition, a spokeswoman said.

Long

Killed in the two-vehicle wreck were Lloyd Singleton's wife, Leathia Singleton, 76, and Harley Long, 58, of 1908-C Crandall-Ellijay Road in Chatsworth. Long was driving a 1999 Plymouth Voyager van and Lethia Singleton was a passenger in a 1995 Dodge Ram truck driven by her husband.

Glenda Green is a niece of the senior Singletons. She said her uncle and cousin were injured considerably.

"Joey has a broken wrist, femur and knee, and he had surgery (Thursday) night," she said.

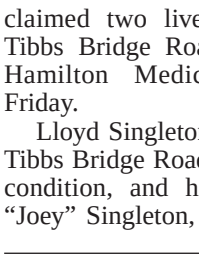
Teen, 13, charged as adult on sex charge

By Mark Millican
markmillican@daltoncitizen.com

A Dalton teenager has been charged as an adult under sentencing guidelines known as "The Seven Deadly Sins" for juveniles. But the district attorney's office could lessen the charge following an investigation.



Perdomo-Zeron

Axel Rafael Perdomo-Zeron, 13, of 416 Southland Drive in Dalton, was charged Wednesday by the Dalton Police Department with aggravated child molestation. That charge — along with murder, voluntary manslaughter, rape, armed robbery with a firearm, aggravated sexual battery and aggravated sodomy — are crimes where persons age 13 through 16 can be charged,

Storm brings down trees, power lines

From Staff Reports

The lashing storm that brought high winds across Whitfield and Murray counties late Friday afternoon also brought down trees and power lines.

A Whitfield 911 dispatcher reported power lines down on Old Grade Road, South Grade Drive and Mountain View Drive in the eastern part of the county, and in front of Valley Point Elementary on Highway 41 South. Trees were down at Fields Road off Highway 41 and Blue Mountain Parkway near Rocky Face, Mount Vernon Road near Highway 201 in Tunnel Hill, and Griffin Street off Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard in town.

Jeffrey Putnam, director of Whitfield County Emergency Services, said some billboards were blown down on I-75 near Connector 3 and that a storage shed at a residence

'With me in paradise'

Annual 'Stations of the Cross' held at St. Joseph's

By Rachel Brown
rachelbrown@daltoncitizen.com

"De cierto te digo que hoy estarás conmigo en el paraíso."

Dalton resident Charlotte Stargel couldn't follow Gabriel Mejia's words ("I tell you the truth, today you will be with me in paradise.") as he acted out in Spanish Jesus Christ's road to the cross.

Yet Stargel said the 14-act performance by members of St. Joseph's Catholic Church of the "Stations of the Cross" on Friday meant a lot to her as she prepares for her baptism today. The church's youth group, "Ven y Sigueme" — Spanish for "Come and Follow Me" — organized the event. Some 35 actors participated and dozens of volunteers helped with the Passion procession on the church grounds.

It was Stargel's first time attending, and the blonde native of Florida was surrounded by about 3,000 other spectators, many of whom are Hispanic members of the church. Yet Stargel, who was formerly Methodist, said she felt at home.

"Our daughter passed away three years ago," she said, "and we were in a lot of turmoil. "(When we visited the Vatican to get away from home), we knew in our hearts that our daughter was OK and this was the place we needed to be."

Stations of the Cross

1. Jesus is condemned to death
2. Jesus receives the cross
3. Jesus falls the first time
4. Jesus meets his mother
5. Simon of Cyrene carries the cross
6. Veronica wipes Jesus' face with her veil
7. Jesus falls the second time
8. Jesus meets the women of Jerusalem
9. Jesus falls the third time
10. Jesus is stripped of his garments
11. Crucifixion: Jesus is nailed to the cross
12. Jesus dies on the cross
13. Jesus' body is removed from the cross
14. Jesus is laid in the tomb.

Dalton resident Cynthia Rosales, 24, formerly of Mexico City, said the performance is similar to productions in her home country, only St. Joseph's production was on a much smaller scale.

"At least it's something that if I'm not able to be here every weekend, I try to be here (for this)," she said, noting the spiritual importance of the event for Catholics.

In Catholic tradition, Good Friday commemorates Jesus' crucifixion 2,000 years ago. The Stations of the Cross was one of many weekend worship services the church is hosting.

Following the cross

More than two hours before the event, onlookers staked out their places in an outdoor plaza outside the church building off Haig Mill Road. Some purchased cold drinks, wooden beads and crosses made from corn husks while they waited.

"We do have a Slow, Children at Play sign on our road and the speed limit is 25, so they should be able to stop for a child in the street."

Editor: Do you really want to take that chance.

"This is for the folks who want the gay marriages in Georgia. Read your Bible and see what God did to the gays in Soddom and Gomorrah. He killed them. There are no gays in heaven."

"I don't go to church to listen to bawling babies. I want to hear the message. It doesn't seem to me to be too much to ask for parents to take their squalling kids to another room. God bless them."

"Did I read a quote in Monday's paper from Tim Trew saying they are building the school the people wanted? I want to know who "the people" are. Get ready for property tax increases, because there will never be another SPLOST approved in Whitfield County. Thanks Tim Trew!"

"I was wondering if Mitchell Boggs made it to the majors with the Cardinals."

Editor: Former DHS pitcher Boggs was injured for part of spring training and sent to Triple AAA Memphis. He pitched opening day and gave up only one run on five hits in six innings.

"Why does the city water have such a strong chemical taste and smell? It's not fit to drink."

"You can get fishing licenses without going on the Internet. Kmart and Grant's Sporting Goods sell them."

"The Spry Magazine that came in Wednesday's paper has a lot of helpful information in it. Thank you."

"The vocal language from spectators to officials and players was totally out of control. Just because it's in Spanish does not mean it's OK. This kind of behavior should not be allowed at school functions."

"Bob Miller, your letter to the editor was wonderful. Nobody has put it any better than that."

"Thanks to Gary Mimbs for his article that appears in the Dalton paper. A man of God needs to be heard."

"Pray you don't ever have to go to the ER at Hamilton. If you do, take an overnight bag."

"Unfortunately Obama thinks that being a superpower is a popularity contest. I couldn't care less if the world likes us. I want our friends to respect us, and our enemies to fear us.

"I just read Bob Miller's letter to the editor. Bravo Mr. Miller. You're a good Christian man."

"If the county is not willing to help Dalton Utilities in regards to the SPLOST road project, then Dalton Utilities doesn't need to run that line out to the new high school in the county."

"When Obama was told about the American ship that pirates hijacked and them took the captain hostage, he called it an 'annoying distraction.' Good thing he wasn't president when the World Trade towers were destroyed by terrorists. That would have been a 'huge distraction'."

Editor: Check your facts. Obama didn't say that.

"Everyone should know that our commissioners have paid big bucks for a Minnesota group to come in here and change a lot of our street and road names without any input from our residents."

Editor: Wrong. The city and county did a good job of advertising the name changes, including public meetings asking for public input.

"Drinking coffee during worship services at church is extremely offensive to me and disrespectful to our God."

"After watching President Obama and Michelle on TV the last few days I was wondering, does anyone know which one of them weighs the most."

"Who's the genius who decided that Whitfield County students would take the CRCT test, the most important test of the school year, the week after spring break."

"Does anyone remember the Burger Chef that was in town?"

"Mr. Editor says the All-Area Girls basketball team is composed of the five best players. Only in Dalton can your stats say you're No. 7 and your paper say you're No. 1."

Editor: A knowledgeable sports fans realizes that stats are only part of the equation. Sorry your favorite didn't make the team.

"Is America ready for a dictator? Seems we have one."

"I like to read my newspaper while lying on the sofa, not while sitting at the computer."

"Dr. Virginia Leonard, where did you do? I need you. You were the best chiropractor ever."

"Where was the It Couldn't Happen Here column today?"

Editor: Sorry. Charles Oliver had three stories on the front page and didn't get around to writing his column ... the bum.

"Thank you Doug Hammontree for the thought-provoking, beautiful letter in Wednesday's paper."

"Thank you Mr. Mayor for getting rid of those hateful traffic light cameras. Now, work with us to to get rid of that worthless trade center."

"At least in Germany and Canada they get to go to a doctor. I wonder how many Americans die because they can't go to a doctor. I can't afford insurance so I have to pay cash when I go to the doctor."

"The traffic cameras are out so all you Dale Earnhardt wannabes can start running the red lights again."

"I bet the person who blames alcohol for the car wreck wouldn't blame a gun for murder or a pencil for a misspelled word."

"I believe in same-sex marriage. After three years, it's all the same anyway."

"No we are not all for same-sex marriage. It takes a man and a woman to have children."

"Consulting my dictionary after reading Wednesday's forum I found that even the holier-than-thou could be called infidels."

"The only statement that America is losing more respect after President Obama's European trip is in Wednesday's forum. I have't even hear that from our editor.

Editor: I am sure the current crop of European leaders "respects" President Obama. Let's see what good it does.

"It's a sad day when any president would say America is not a Christian nation."

"How old are some of the people who read this newspaper? A Christian dermatologist is a doctor of dermatology who is a Christian. I prefer to deal with Christians, whether it be a doctor, my grocer, or for car repairs."

"Anybody who has worked for years and is out of a job deserves food stamps and unemployment benefits. It's the people who sit on their butts and never hit a lick at anything who don't."

"Gas on one side of Walnut Avenue is $1.88 and on the other is $1.91. Guess which station I am going to stop at and fill up?"

Editor: And if the owner on the other side loses business, he'll lower his price. That's how it works.

"Why put the Bible on the front page? Because Jesus comes first."

"The person who says you get three square meals a day and watch TV in the jail hasn't been there. You don't get three square meals a day."

"All you people who are putting down President Obama need to take a look at the man in the mirror. You need to remember that God is in control and God has the last say so. Try Jesus. He's the one you need."

Editor: What does that have to do with criticizing an elected official?

"The economic mess was created by the crude oil companies and their $4 a gallon gasoline. And we're heading back in that same direction."

Wreck: Hospitalized

"Lloyd has broken ribs — in fact, he was recovering from broken ribs in another accident — and was put on a ventilator (Friday) morning because his breathing had shallowed."

Green said later on Friday that Lloyd Singleton was put on a CPAP (Continuous Positive Airway Pressure) machine, which is commonly used to help sleep disorder patients breathe easier at night.

Green said the Singletons' daughter-in-law, Dorothy Singleton, saw the wreck from her front porch.

"She's too upset to talk with anyone outside family right now," Green said. "Everyone is gathered up at the hospital. But she told me the van (driven by Long) appeared to try and pass another vehicle and ran head on into Lloyd's truck. At the hospital Mr. Long's wife told me her husband was a diabetic and also had high blood pressure and that something may have happened to him."

Long died at 4 p.m. Thursday at Hamilton. Lethia Singleton, who was airlifted to Erlanger Hospital in Chattanooga, died Thursday evening, said Whitfield County coroner Bobbie Dixon.

"She was a good Christian woman who had a lot of faith and was good to everybody," Green said. "She was like a glue that held the family together."

"It's a tragic situation for both families, and the Long family would like to let the Singleton family know that they are in our thoughts and prayers," said Debbie Long, the sister-in-law of Harley Long.

A spokesman with the Georgia State Patrol said he could not give the probable cause of the wreck because it was still under investigation.

Charged: As an adult

and sentenced, as adults.

They're part of legislation first enacted in 1995 to toughen the state's penal code, said District Attorney Kermit McManus.

"The Legislature did that because Georgia was making a shift from a previous lenient system," he said. "Citizens voted for constitutional amendments that said people who committed serious felonies would serve lengthy sentences and that there would be room for them in the prisons."

As part of the package, the juvenile criminal code was strengthened to reflect the adult code. The 1995 enactment mandated 10-year prison sentences for adults convicted of one or more of the Seven Deadly Sins, which are similar to the juvenile crimes. The adult "Sins" are murder, kidnapping, rape, armed robbery, aggravated child molestation, aggravated sexual battery and aggravated sodomy.

In 2005 the adult — but not juvenile — laws were strengthened to a mandatory 25 years for all convictions except murder, which is now life without parole.

If convicted of aggravated child molestation, Perdomo-Zeron could serve a mandatory 10 years under the 1995 legislation. Until he turns 17, that time would be served in a regional youth detention center (YDC), then he would be transferred to a state prison. But there is an "escape clause," said McManus, that gives the DA's office latitude in determining the seriousness of the charge.

"Everything heard in Superior Court goes to the DA's office, and the DA makes a decision if the charge is prosecutable or what the charge should truly be," he explained. "We can transfer the case back to Juvenile Court because we don't think it's appropriate for Superior Court and could be better handled in Juvenile Court. That is, until the time the case is indicted. The judge can also make that decision."

Perdomo-Zeron was still in the YDC on Underwood Street on Friday, McManus said, adding that he may have already had a "first appearance" before a magistrate. But because of the seriousness of the charge, bond cannot be set until he appears at a Superior Court bond hearing on Tuesday.

McManus said the public defender's office is involved in the case, although he did not yet have the name of an attorney representing Perdomo-Zeron.

"We're waiting to decide which way to go with him," McManus said of the investigation into the charge.

The Dalton Police Department investigated and arrested Perdomo-Zeron after a Department of Family and Children Services official contacted the department about a "possible child molestation."

Cross

Ocampo of Dalton said she was so excited that she would find it difficult to cry during her part as Mary, the mother of Jesus.

"I'm kind of nervous, but I'll do my best," she said.

Mejia said this is his second year playing Jesus, and he was chosen partly because he could meet the time demands, he said. The group has been practicing for the past two months.

Speaking through a translator, the native of Mexico said he suffered a lot last year since the cross was wet then, making it heavier. This year, he went to the gym to build up, he said, and also feels more at peace spiritually.

The play commenced with a group of actors playing soldiers breaking through the thick crowd of spectators. "Lado, lado!" they snapped, urging people to move to the side. "Rapido!" they added, as they hurried their prisoner along with whips.

In the middle was Mejia, covered in bright red paint representing Jesus' blood.

Although a priest gave a short English narration at each station, the acting and prayers were in Spanish.

Most of the spectators attended with family, and about half were children. Young ones clung to their parents while older children clamored over the muddy terrain in an effort to get the best view of the procession as the crowd followed the actors around the church grounds.

At the scene of Jesus' death, a few drops of rain began to fall. Crowds made their way back to the parking lots quietly.

Stargel and several others returned to the building to pray.

Raccoon tests positive for rabies in Ringgold

BY MARK ANDREWS
Catoosa County News

A raccoon killed by a family dog in south central Ringgold this week tested positive for rabies.

The raccoon was in the area of Salem Valley Road and New Bethel Road. This was the first case in Catoosa this year of an animal testing positive for rabies.

Jon Klepper, environmental health manager for Catoosa County, said the owners of the dog saw the raccoon being attacked, therefore allowing them to report the animal. Another dog was present during the attack.

There are usually three animals or less each year that test positive for rabies in Catoosa County.

Klepper said the case came from an "ideal" situation. Both dogs involved were up to date on their rabies vaccinations.

"Have your animals vaccinated," Klepper advised.

VIEWS

Our geriatric fleet of aerial tankers

Defense Secretary Robert Gates has pledged to reform the military procurement process, and he'll get an early test of that promise when the Air Force tries yet again to replace its ancient fleet of aerial refueling planes that are vital to U.S. air dominance.

The workhorses of the tanker fleet are 450 KC-135s, built in the 1950s and '60s, with an expected lifespan of 20 years. They're still flying, although keeping them up in the air is getting costlier and repairs and maintenance are taking longer.

How tough can it be to award a $35 billion contract for 179 planes? Almost impossible, it seems.

The Pentagon's decade-long attempt to replace the KC-135s has been almost comically inept and greatly complicated by members of Congress who demand that they be built in their districts and states; aggressive lobbying by the two firms that want to build them, Boeing and Northrop; and the small army of lawyers each side has deployed.

An interim plan to lease tankers from Boeing foundered on congressional opposition. Another plan to buy tankers from Boeing ended when a top Pentagon procurement official was convicted of corruptly aiding the company. And then a deal to buy the tankers from rival Northrop was overturned when the Government Accountability Office ruled that the contract had been unfairly awarded.

Gates has rejected the Solomon-like proposal from a member of Congress that both firms build the new tanker. Instead, he says he will issue new guidelines, solicit bids this summer and carry out the process by the rules.

The congressional delegations from Alabama, where the Northrop plane would be built, and from the state of Washington and Kansas, where the Boeing would be built, will have something to say about that.

The simple fact is that we have to have the aerial tankers. During the first weeks of the Iraq war, bombers based in the United States were able to attack Baghdad thanks to continuous aerial refueling. Even at a healthy production rate for new tankers, The Associated Press has calculated that some of the KC-135s may be 80 years old when they are finally replaced.

Graded an F

Bill Shipp

Unless the Easter bunny leaves Georgia's government a bushel of golden eggs, the Peach State is in a heck of a mess.

Before the Legislature adjourned its unusually brief session, it enacted an annual budget that doesn't balance. Unless the current recession ends by Wednesday, Georgia's state government is on a collision course with a gaping $225 million shortfall. State law prohibits red-ink budgets.

Of course, our lawmakers showed plainly that they don't much care what the law says. They needed to get home.

So they enacted a so-called recession budget based on a 6.8 percent loss in revenue in the coming year. The professional money men in the Gold Dome say with near certainty that Georgia is on track for an 8.6 percent loss in revenue.

Even an aging journalist understands that the General Assembly's budget doesn't jibe with reality. The light we see at the end of the tunnel shines on a steep financial cliff, and we're about to drop off it.

In fact, either Gov. Sonny Perdue gallops to the rescue with some magic money or the lawmakers must return to Atlanta to straighten out their mess with more cuts — or more taxes — or something. We've already tapped our share of the stimulus money — just after our leaders stamped "socialism" on the U.S. letter of transfer.

If we could rerun and edit the tapes on the legislative session, we would make a couple of changes that could have helped avert the coming train wreck.

For instance, we could cut out nearly all the speechifying concerning the president of the United States.

If we could extend our editorial reach to Washington, we would leave on the cutting-room floor the tapes of Sens. Saxby Chambliss and Johnny Isakson plus the precious words of Reps. Phil Gingrey and Tom Price.

Oh, I'm sure they received tons of mail praising their grand criticism of President Obama and his advisers. And they must have been praised highly among the GOP stalwarts for whacking their Democratic colleagues.

However, I understand that all four are in the minority party now and don't grasp everything that's going on. Too bad some compassionate soul didn't whisper into Rep./Dr. Gingrey's ear: "You're needed in surgery, doctor. President Obama — the guy you say you dislike so much — and his pals are about to slice 2,000 Georgia defense jobs out of the federal spending plan."

Those jobs will come from downsizing the production in Marietta of the F-22 fighter jet.

In the old days, a discreet call from Sen. Richard Russell or Sen. Sam Nunn or House Speaker Newt Gingrich to the Pentagon or the White House might have delayed or even halted the cutbacks.

Consider the present. Russell and Nunn are long gone, and Speaker Gingrich is out of the picture for now. Who are Saxby, Johnny, Phil and Tom going to call? The White House? That's an idea, except while Obama was working out his budget in the Oval Office, he would occasionally glance at the TV. And there, in living color, he would see Georgia's own Tom Price telling the world that Obama was leading us all straight to hell.

We would edit all that out, if we could, and then hurry back to Georgia to clean up some other things. First, we'd need to Photoshop off Speaker Glenn Richardson's face that smirk which occurred just as he killed with relish a routine resolution from the Georgia House Black Caucus honoring America's first black president.

When the federal budget finally appeared, all but a couple of the F-22s had disappeared from the radar. The experts say the whole program may shortly vanish. See how smart our congressmen are? They really showed old Obama, didn't they?

In Atlanta, Lt. Gov. Casey Cagle and Richardson presented the state's "amended budget": a document with a gigantic mistake in math. Or maybe I'm too harsh. Did our learned solons purposely miss balancing the books by $225 million? Did they want an excuse to hurry back to Atlanta to correct the error?

Of course, what's done is done. We can't edit history. Still, you'd think professional politicians would learn: When the teacher is grading your paper, don't announce that she's an ugly old hag. The class may laugh, but the teacher's smile means an F is on the way. The same rule applies to government budget directors and lawmakers.

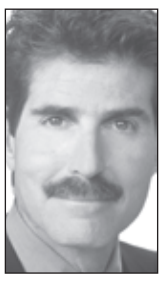
The universal pre-K scam



John Stossel

Did you go to preschool? When I was growing up, few kids did. But now there is a new movement that says every child in America should have a chance to start school before kindergarten — at taxpayer expense.

It's part of President Obama's massive spending plans. His "stimulus" bill includes an Early Learning Challenge Grant to encourage states to "Develop a cutting-edge plan to raise the quality of your early learning programs." It's a popular idea.

Sixty-seven percent of Americans favor universal pre-K funded by the government. But I doubt that most Americans have thought it through.

Mia Levi has. She told me, "This whole thing is a scam."

Levi runs six preschools. I thought she'd favor the program, since she'd collect easy money from the government.

"I don't want to have to answer to the government," she said in my ABC special "Bailouts and Bull.". "Our programs are so far superior."

Universal pre-K would create a single standard for preschools, but why is that a good thing? Why should we think there is one way to do preschool and that government experts know what it is? President Obama doesn't acknowledge what Nobel economist F. A. Hayek taught us: Competition is a discovery process.

Levi has to work hard to improve her schools because she knows that, unlike with government services, parents have options. "If we didn't do our job, families would go down the street to the next school. Public schools aren't doing their job, and they get to just keep opening their doors. To say that they are the ones to define ... quality is laughable.

As she says, the pre-K movement has the whiff of scam about it. Most American kids already attend preschool. Parents pay for it themselves, and those who can't afford it can get government subsidies or use free programs like Head Start. But under universal pre-K, taxpayers would pay for every child.

"It's a flagrant waste of money," Levi said. "It's as if I went shopping for myself because I needed a dress for a party and I bought a dress for everybody else whether they needed it or not."

But we keep hearing that investment in pre-K will pay off later. Obama says, "For every dollar we invest in these programs, we get nearly $10 back in reduced welfare rolls, fewer health costs and less crime."

Those glowing statistics come from tiny studies (58 children) of places like Michigan's Perry Preschool. But those low-income, low-IQ kids got much more than preschool, including after-school tutoring, and their moms and dads got parenting classes. Lisa Snell, education director of the Reason Foundation, says you can't expect similar results with middle- and higher income children.

In addition, lots of studies say the preschool effect fades. Head Start is revered for raising test scores, but studies show that by grades 3 or 4 those gains vanish. "They can't tell the difference between the kids that went to Head Start and the kids who didn't," Snell says. "When they compared them to the kids that are disadvantaged that didn't go to Head Start, they can't tell from their test scores which kids had the treatment of Head Start."

There's still another flaw in the program. Some studies have found that too much school may lead to disruptive and aggressive behavior. Libby Doggett, who leads one of the biggest pre-K advocacy groups, concedes that, but claims that "high-quality" government programs benefit children. She said Oklahoma and Georgia have them already. But those states, despite spending billions of tax dollars on preschool for the past 10 years, have not shown impressive results. Oklahoma's students lost ground to kids from other states.

Doggett replied: "We don't want to just focus on IQ scores. We want to look at how children are doing in their social and emotional, their non-cognitive development." Please. When the huge government program fails to raise scores, the central planners promise it will help the kids socially?

World famous Amish built fireplace mantles now being given away free

After about a million sold, nearly perfect Scratch-N-Dent models of the world famous Amish built fireplace mantles are now being given away free to the first 2,987 readers who call to beat the order deadline for the miracle heaters that let you turn your furnace off earlier this year

Slash your Heat Bills: Miracle invention uses only a trickle of electricity while you relax in front of the soothing glow of a fire, then turn your thermostat way down and with the push of a button get a constant heat wave using about the same energy as a coffee maker and never be cold again

By Erika Espriella
Universal Media Syndicate

(UMS) If you just got stung with another high heat bill you better hurry and get in on this free giveaway.

Today, for the first time ever beautiful Scratch-N-Dent models of the world famous Heat Surge® Miracle Fireplace mantles are actually being given away free to the general public.

The only thing today's readers need to do is call the Toll Free Hotline before the deadline starting at precisely 8:00am this morning to order the miracle heaters. Everyone who does will instantly be awarded the genuine handmade Amish oak Fireplace mantle absolutely free.

"This is all happening because the Amish craftsmen who have already built nearly a million of these mantles take great pride in their work so not all mantles make the final grade. Others can be nicked during handling after they leave the Amish workshops," said Chris Gallo, Heat Surge spokesman.

"We think they are way too hard on themselves, but that's how we are able to set aside hundreds of these nearly perfect units to give away free," Gallo said.

"These are the newest Heat Surge Fireless Flame Fireplace models. Call them whatever you want, refurbished, reconditioned, nearly new, but chances are you will never find the flaw, it could be on the firebox or the mantle, but usually smaller than a thumb nail. Since the mantles also get labeled nearly perfect we are giving them away free," Gallo said.

"It's the buzz around town. Yes, the Amish craftsmen need to earn money like everyone else but they are willing to take less for their work so that everyone can get one. It shows we care. The overriding goal is to help as many people as possible to substantially cut their heat bills now and next fall by allowing everyone to turn down their thermostat," Gallo said.

As we look forward to enjoying the summer, there will be that monster lurking in the shadows: HIGH HEATING BILLS. They are again just a few short months away. So if your heat bills sting right now, just think how bad they could hurt next year.

"Giving these away now is about the best way to prepare everyone for what is coming. So if you thought you couldn't afford the World Famous Heat Surge Fireplace, now is the time to get in on this," Gallo said.

"Everyone wants them now because by next fall, this free giveaway will be long gone," he said.

Don't let anyone talk you into anything else. Those others are just imitations. These are the Heat Surge Fireplaces with genuine Amish Mantles that actually roll from room to room to give you the huge savings with zone heating.

A special High-Tech on board computer controls what's called the 'Fireless Flame' that gives you the peaceful flicker of a real fire but without any flames, fumes, smells, ashes or mess. Everyone is getting them because they require no chimney and no vent. You just plug it in.

The patented Fireless Flame looks so real it fools everybody but it has no real fire. The mantles are handmade in the USA right in the heart of Amish country where they are beautifully hand-rubbed, stained and varnished.

Thousands of people from California and Florida even flock to get them because they may never have to turn on their furnace. And since the standard setting uses only 750 watts, about the same energy as a coffee maker the potential savings are absolutely incredible.

"That way, everyone who gets them now can immediately start saving on their heat bills. You'll instantly feel bone soothing heat in any room. You will never have to be cold again," he said.

"We'll do everything we can so no one gets left out. But, if you miss out today, your last chance is tomorrow to get in on this free giveaway of the world famous Heat Surge Fireplace mantle, but you also get the patented fireless flame miracle heater free of next year's dealer mark up. After they are gone we have to turn everyone away," confirms Gallo.

"So when lines are busy keep trying. We promise to get to every call. Then we will have a delivery truck out to your door right away with your beautiful Amish made Heat Surge Roll-n-Glow® Fireplace," Gallo said. ■

■ PICKY, PICKY: "If it's not perfect, give them away free," said the elder Amish craftsman. That's why these nearly perfect genuine Amish built fireplace mantles made in the USA are being given away free to the first 2,987 readers who call 1-866-349-2988 to beat the order deadline for the world famous Heat Surge fireless flame miracle heaters that can drastically slash your heat bills. The miracle invention rolls from room to room with no chimney, no vents, no wood, no mess and no smoke. Just plug it in and relax in front of the fireless flame.

HEAT SURGE® Fireless Flame™

Hot air only comes out of the top vent

The hi-tech silent heat turbine takes in cold air

How It Works: The HEAT SURGE miracle heater is a work of engineering genius so advanced, you simply plug it into any standard outlet. Based upon the national average it uses only about 8¢ of electric an hour on the standard setting. Yet, it produces up to an amazing 5,119 BTU's on the high setting. So watch out, a powerful on board Hi-Tech heat turbine silently forces hot air out into the room from the vent so you feel the bone soothing heat instantly. These nearly perfect Scratch-N-Dent fireplaces have each been professionally inspected and reconditioned, if needed, by our professional technicians and come with our standard limited full year replacement or money back warranty, less shipping plus a 30-Day Satisfaction Guarantee.

©2009 HEAT SURGE P4519A OF7502R-1

Miracle invention rolls from room to room with no chimney, no vents, no wood and no smoke

■ THE BRAINS BEHIND THE BEAUTY: This is the High Tech computer board that controls the patented fireless flame technology developed by Asian engineers. Since the Amish don't make the firebox computer, it's the only cost you have to cover because they are giving all of the Scratch-N-Dent Amish built mantles away for free.

■ EASILY ROLLS ANYWHERE: This is the Heat Surge Roll-n-Glow® Fireplace that is so portable it easily rolls from bedroom to living room to keep you warm everywhere. No vents, no chimney and no tools. Just plug it in.

■ SAVE ON BILLS: Everyone can get low bills and stay warm and cozy. Naomi Abrams' new Heat Surge Roll-n-Glow® Fireplace saves a ton of money and makes her front room look like a million bucks. "It was a surprise from my husband," she said.

■ SAFE FLAME: The Heat Surge patented Fireless Flame looks so real it fools everyone but there is no real fire. That makes the flame window safe to the touch. It's where the kids will play and the cat and dog will sleep.

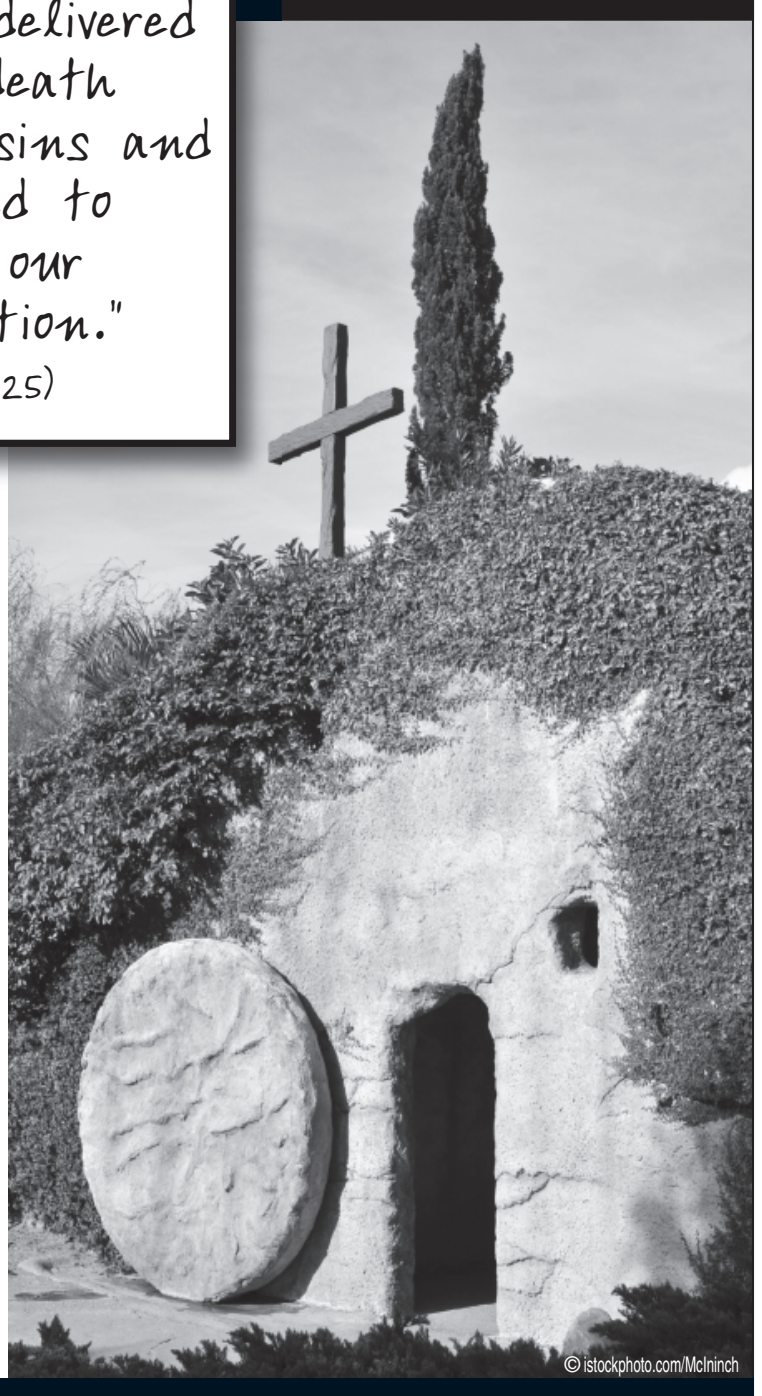
The Lord Has Risen

"He was delivered over to death for our sins and was raised to life for our justification."
(Romans 4:25)



Every Easter we rejoice! The gravestone was rolled away and Christ arose from the dead!

Likewise, we can arise above spiritual death, our soul intact. As God guides our spirit, the suffocating stones of despair, anxiety and fear are rolled away and we can be filled with joy! Hallelujah… Christ has risen!

Robbie 'Bobbie' Starr Mathews

Mrs. Robbie "Bobbie" Starr Mathews, 79, of Calhoun, died Friday, April 10, 2009, following an extended illness.

Bobbie was active in the First United Methodist Church, which was a centerpiece in her life. Bobbie dearly loved her family, her friends and Calhoun, the community she called home.

A third generation Calhoun native, Bobbie was devoted to her community and spearheaded numerous committees and projects for the good of Calhoun and Gordon County. Bobbie was a pioneer in the early development stages of the Downtown Beautification Committee, which is responsible for maintaining an attractive downtown area. She was instrumental in the development of the Roland Hayes Daycare Center, which has evolved into numerous day care centers within the community. Bobbie also initiated a scholarship fund for area nurses through the Gordon Hospital Foundation Board.

Bobbie was preceded in death by her parents, James Henry and Aurie Will Starr of Calhoun and by her sister, Jeter Starr Horsley of Rome.

Survivors include her husband, Bill Mathews to whome she was married for 58 years; her son, William Mathews and his wife, Becky; her son, Jim Mathews and his wife Kathy; her daughter, Mary Mathews; four grandchildren, Helen Mathews, Susan Rutland and her husband David, Robert Mathews and Barton Mathews; her great-granddaughter, Cate Rutland also survives. Other survivors include a beloved brother-in-law, Bob Horsley Sr., Starr Smith, Susan Sipf and Bob Horsley Jr. and their families. Special friends include Pat Hawkins, Cindy Hawkins and Angie Stansell.

Services are Monday at 2 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church of Calhoun with Dr. Brian Clark and the Rev. Tom Karr officiating.

Burial will be in Fain Cemetery. Pallbearers serving include Robert Mathews, Barton Mathews, David Rutland, Bob Horsley Jr., Dick Inman, Jim Lay, Jimmy Smith and Jimmy Silvers.

The family will receive friends today from 5 to 8 p.m.

The family has requested that in lieu of flowers donations may be made to the Calhoun First United Methodist Church Building Fund, 205 E. Line St., Calhoun, GA, 30701.

Unclear when Walnut Starbucks will close

BY JAMIE JONES
jamiejones@daltoncitizen.com

MATT HAMILTON/The Daily Citizen

After just 13 months in operation, the Starbucks on West Walnut Avenue and Market Street will be closing.

The Starbucks at the corner of Walnut Avenue and Market Street is closing after just 13 months of serving coffee, food and drinks.

The company-owned store at 1521 W. Walnut Ave. is among 11 stores in Georgia and 200 across the country set to close, according to company officials. Locations inside Kroger on Walnut Avenue and on Cleveland Highway will remain open. A store at 1935 Battlefield Parkway in Fort Olgethorpe is also closing.

In the past nine months Starbucks, the Seattle-based coffee giant, has announced plans to shutter 900 stores around the world and cut almost 7,000 jobs in an effort to lower costs. Company officials said the affected stores are either underperforming or poorly located, which led to saturation in some areas.

Starbucks officials declined to say how many people the company employs at the Dalton store set to be closed. The company will close some stores by the end of April, with the rest closing by the end of the fiscal year. Company officials would not say when the Dalton store will close.

"The decision to close stores and impact partners is extremely difficult," a company statement said. "We recognize the impact this has on many members of the Starbucks family who have directly contributed to our success over the years. The contribution, spirit and energy of these partners will be missed."

The company plans to place many of the affected employees in available positions at nearby stores. Employees not offered a comparable position within a reasonable distance of their current location will be offered a severance payment.

The Starbucks inside Kroger opened in February 2007. Thirteen months later, the freestanding store a few blocks west opened. Other store closings in Georgia include Metro Atlanta, Macon, Madison and Monroe.

On a busy Friday afternoon, some Starbucks customers hadn't heard the news of the Walnut Avenue location closing. Melinda Roberts said she buys coffee there several times a week on her way to work in Dalton from Calhoun.

"I guess I'll just have to find somewhere else, maybe down the road at the other Starbucks," Roberts said.

Battle of Ringgold Gap re-enactment continues today

PRO BASEBALL: ATLANTA BRAVES

Cox: Schafer earned his shot

By Adam Krohn
adamkrohn@daltoncitizen.com

ATLANTA – If Jordan Schafer feels overwhelmed by his new gig as the Atlanta Braves' starting center fielder, he's hiding it well.

Not only is the 22-year-old the first rookie to make his Major League debut in the Braves' opening day starting lineup since 1981, but he's also a quick study. His first big league at-bat was a home run in Philadelphia last Sunday. Heading into Friday's home opener against Washington at Turner Field, he was 3-for-10 with two homers, all coming in the Phillies series.

Not bad for a kid going into spring training unsure he could even make the Braves' roster.

"I didn't meet with him one-on-one, or anything like that (during spring training)," Braves manager Bobby Cox said before Friday's game. "He just earned the right to make our club. He's got a good baseball head on top of his shoulders, he knows how to play the game and he conducts himself really well. Plus, he's a great center fielder and he's already hit two homers."

All Schafer wanted was an opportunity to prove to the Braves' brass that he's the prospect they thought he was all along. Any chance he had of making the

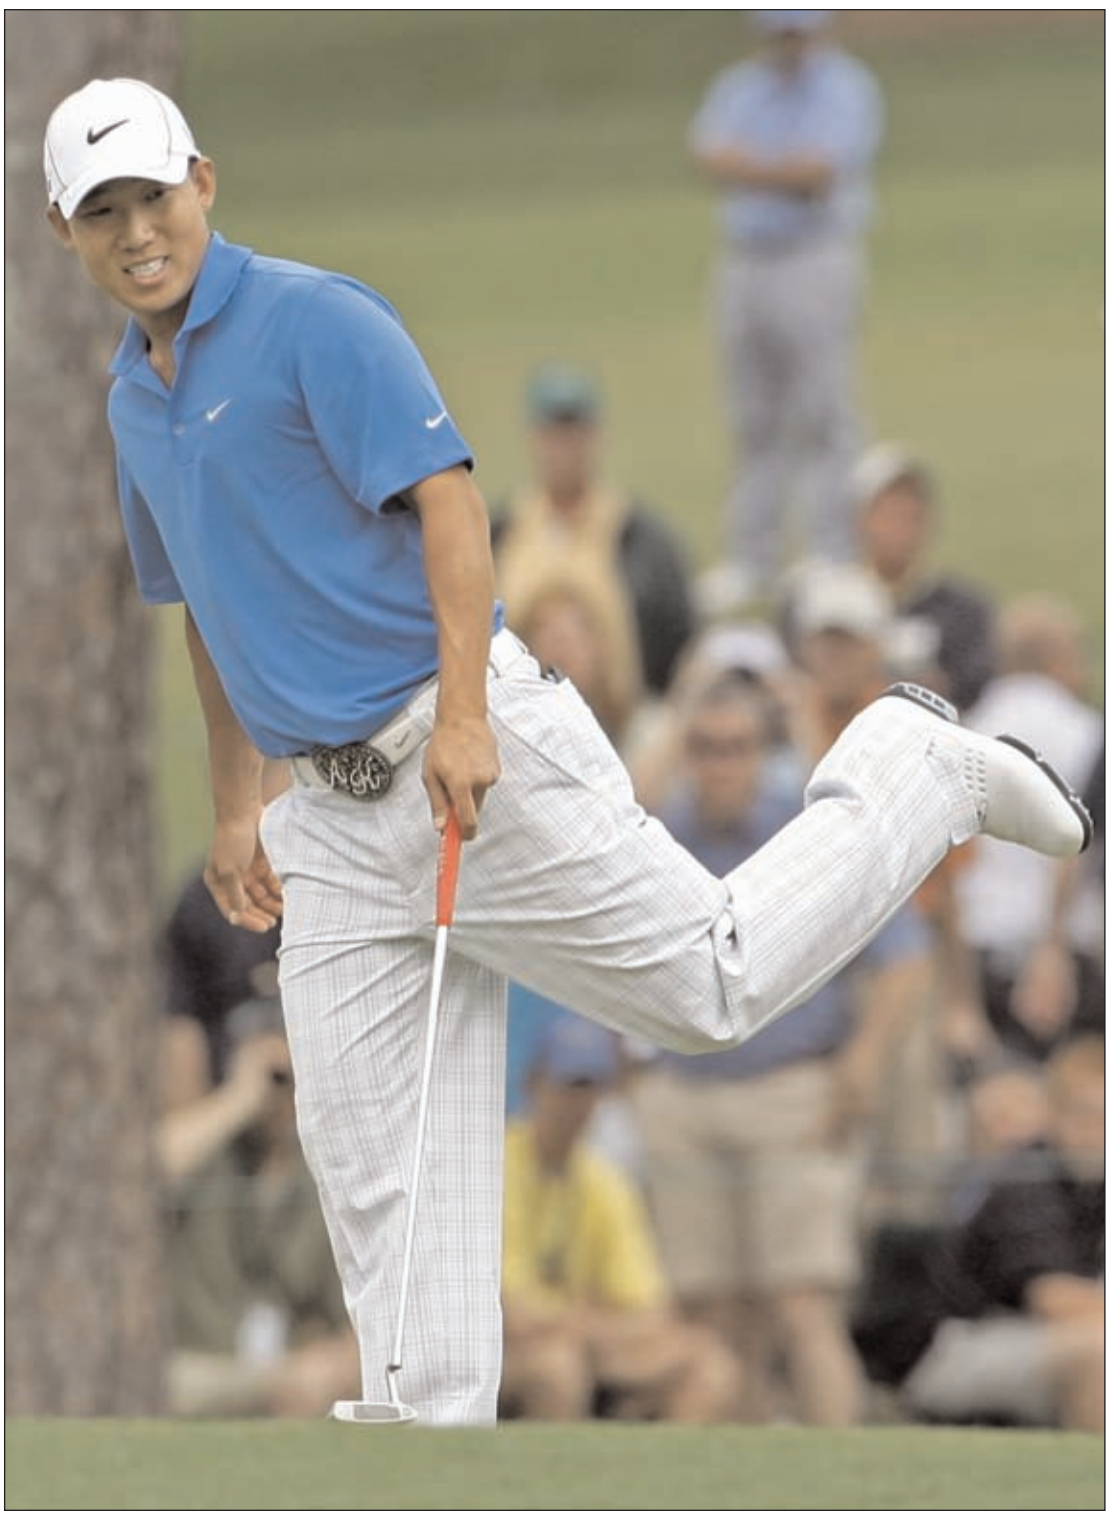
GOLF: THE MASTERS



Anthony Kim, reacting to missing an eagle putt on No. 15, scorched Augusta National on Friday with a tournament record 11 birdies on his way to a second-round 65, leaving him five shots behind midway co-leaders Kenny Perry and Chad Campbell. The 23-year-old Kim was thrilled with his round, saying he hasn't been making 11 birdies in two days up to this point in the season. "So," he said, "to make 11 birdies in one day is pretty special." He's hoping his putter stays hot to keep him in contention for the coveted Masters green jacket.

Campbell, Perry lead

By Doug Ferguson
Associated Press Writer

AUGUSTA — Kenny Perry thought he had a storybook ending to his career when he helped the Americans to a Ryder Cup victory on his native Kentucky soil and shared an emotional embrace with his father.

But that triumphant ride toward retirement is taking a stunning detour down Magnolia Lane.

With one last birdie to cap off what he called one of the best rounds he ever played, Perry shot a 5-under 67 on a blustery Friday at the Masters to share the lead with Chad Campbell going into the weekend.

About the only thing Perry hasn't done is win a major, however, the 48-year-old could be golf's oldest major champion if he pulls this off.

"I've had a great career, and I'd be very satisfied if it ended today," Perry said. "The Ryder Cup, I can't express to y'all how much that meant to me. That was the ultimate of anything I have ever, ever been a part of or accomplished, be it any of my 13 wins.

"But Dad has always said, 'You need to win that green jacket.' He always calls me and tells me."

Augusta National was tougher than the opening round, but even with tougher pins and gusts that swirled through Amen Corner and lasted deep into the afternoon, the fireworks were just as endless.

Campbell got off to another solid start and finished with a 25-foot birdie for a 70, sharing the lead with Perry at 9-under 135. They had a one-shot lead over former U.S. Open champion Angel Cabrera, who had a 68.

Anthony Kim set a tournament record with 11 birdies on his way to a 65 — 10 shots better than his first round — to get into contention in his Master debut. Phil Mickelson was on the verge of missing the cut until he played his last seven

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

G-Day game today

The Associated Press

ATHENS — Joe Cox and Logan Gray will be the starting quarterbacks for the Red and Black teams, respectively, when Georgia ends its spring football schedule with today's G-Day game at Sanford Stadium.

Cox, a senior, is expected to take over for Matthew Stafford as the team's starting quarterback.

Gray on Friday was named the team's biggest surprise of the spring on offense.

Freshmen Aaron Murray and Zach Mettenberger are listed behind Cox on the Red team depth chart.

Among those joining Cox on the Red team's starting offense will be tailback Caleb King, fullback Shaun Chapas and receivers Tony Wilson and A.J. Green. The offensive linemen on the Red team, made up of the first-team offense, are tackles Clint Boling and Cordy Glenn, guards Tanner Strickland and Justin Anderson and center Ben Jones. The tight end is Aron White.

The Black team, which will wear white jerseys, features Georgia's first-team defense, including linebackers Rennie Curran, Akeem Dent and Darryl Gamble and defensive tackles Geno Atkins and Kade Weston.

The game will be televised by ESPN and there will be no admission charge.

AREA ROUNDUP

Raiders suffer another tough loss

From Staff Reports

All season long, Southeast baseball coach Jason Keller has tried to impress on his players the importance of start-to-finish consistency.

In a 5-4 loss at Haralson County on Friday evening in Region 6-3A action, the weather gave some unexpected weight to Keller's point.

The Raiders held the lead for 3 1/2 innings in Tallapoosa, entering the bottom of the fourth up 4-2, but defensive and pitching mistakes allowed Haralson County to string together a three-run rally in that half-inning.

Southeast got out of the fourth without any further damage, but couldn't respond at the plate in the fifth. That became a bigger problem when lightning forced the teams off the field in the bottom of the inning as the Raiders were in the midst of a pitching change with a runner at first base.

After two hours of waiting with no clearance to return to the field, per Georgia High School Association rules, the game was called and made official. GHSA baseball games, which are seven innings under normal conditions, must go at least 4 1/2 innings to count.

It ended a week in which the Raiders went 1-2, all in Region 6-3A games and all in one-run contests. Southeast lost 3-2 at LaFayette on Wednesday and won 7-6 at Heritage-Catoosa on Thursday.

"You hurt for the kids," Keller said. "I felt like we were in control of the game pretty much the whole time. It's just hard accepting playing five innings (and losing). On the other hand, if we make those plays it's not even an issue. We're on the good side of it.

"We've got to play seven complete innings, because you never know when a game's going to be called in a situation like that."

Prior to the delay, the Raiders and Rebels had zipped along, getting in 4 1/2 innings in a little more than an hour.

Southeast scored three runs in the first on three consecutive singles and a sacrifice by Tanner McCutchen before adding another run in the third on Michael Simpson's solo home run.

Haralson County scored one run in both the first and third before its three-run fourth, during which two runners reached base on errors, then came home when McCutchen surrendered a home run.

Iron Bowl gets a new playing date

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The Iron Bowl will be played the day after Thanksgiving the next two seasons, pitting the matchup between state rivals Auburn and Alabama against one of the traditionally biggest shopping days.

CBS Sports said that it will televise the next two Alabama-Auburn football games nationally on Fridays on the last weekend of the SEC's regular season schedule.

Next season's game will kick off at 1:30 p.m. on Nov. 27 in Auburn. The 2010 game is set for Nov. 26 in Tuscaloosa.

The Iron Bowl was moved two years ago after SEC athletic directors voted to require all teams to play on Thanksgiving weekend.

Giants' Martinez hit, hospitalized

SAN DIEGO — San Francisco Giants pitcher Joe Martinez has a concussion and three small fractures in his head after being hit by a line drive.

The rookie reliever was stable and alert in a San Francisco hospital Friday, and the Giants said he was expected to make a full recovery.

Martinez was struck by Mike Cameron's line drive on Thursday night, and sustained hairline fractures on the right side of his face. The accident occurred with two outs in the ninth inning of the Giants' 7-1 win over Milwaukee.

A-Rod takes 2nd step in rehab work

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Alex Rodriguez is to resume baseball activities Monday, more than a month following hip surgery on March 9.

The third baseman has been working out in Vail, Colo., since the operation. The Yankees start a three-game series Monday at the AL champion Tampa Bay Rays, and Yankees manager Joe Girardi said the three-time AL MVP will resume swinging a bat after he reports to the team's minor league complex.

Dish Network, NFL settle lawsuit

NEW YORK — The NFL Network and Dish Network announced a settlement Friday that ends a lawsuit over how the satellite provider broadcasts the channel.

The agreement includes a multiyear deal for Dish to continue carrying NFL Network. Terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

In January 2008, Dish moved the channel from its most widely distributed, 100-channel package to the second-most widely distributed 200-channel tier. The company claimed the NFL violated their contract the previous month when it simulcast the historic Patriots-Giants game on CBS and NBC.

Madoff tickets bid to $2,297 on eBay

NEW YORK — The two tickets for Monday's Citi Field opener owned by Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities were bid up to $2,297 by 5 p.m. EDT Friday on eBay

Seats 5-6 in the eighth row in section 11, just to the home plate side of the New York Mets' dugout, are being sold by the trustee overseeing the liquidation of Madoff's businesses.

The tickets retail for $525 apiece, and there is a deadline of 9:56 a.m. EDT Sunday to bid for the seats. Thirty-five bids had been made for the tickets.

holes in 5 under for a 68. Sergio Garcia shot a 67, the first time he has broken par at the Masters in five years.

There were a record 17 eagles in the second round, breaking by two the mark set in 1997.

Tiger Woods couldn't join this parade of birdies and eagles for the second straight day. All three of his birdies were followed by bogeys, and his 72 left him seven shots behind. Woods has never won a major when trailing by more than six shots after 36 holes.

"It was just tough all round," said Woods, who headed straight for the practice range.

Maybe for him, but not for the 25 players who managed to break par.

It was tough on Gary Player, Fuzzy Zoeller and Greg Norman for other reasons.

Player completed his remarkable career at the Masters by competing for the 52nd and final time. The 73-year-old South African, who won three green jackets, knelt before reaching the 18th green and clasped his hands to thank the gallery.

Zoeller also is calling it quits after an Augusta National career remembered for winning the first sudden-death playoff at the Masters in 1979, and for his racially insensitive comments after Woods won in 1997.

The return of the Shark lasted only two days. Norman shot 40 on the back nine for a 77 to miss the cut by two shots in what likely will be his last time playing the Masters, 22 years without ever getting upstairs to the champions' locker room.

Is there room up there for a 48-year-old from Kentucky?

"Everything is a bonus now, it really is," Perry said. "I'm just going through each and every day enjoying life a little bit. I think I can win. I'm not going out there very casually. I'm burning inside, wanting to kick everybody's butt."

Jack Nicklaus was 46 when he became the oldest Masters champion in 1986. The oldest to win any major was Julius Boros, who was 48 when he won the 1968 PGA Championship. Perry is about four months older.

Despite his paltry record at the Masters — five missed cuts in eight appearances — a victory would not be all that surprising. Perry won earlier this year in Phoenix and is No. 11 in the world ranking.

He has a new driver that makes him feel as though he will hit every fairway, a 64-degree sand wedge that has helped take the edge off the scary chips around the green, and he is putting better than ever. No wonder he made it through Friday without a single bogey.

"That was probably one of the greatest rounds I've ever played," Perry said. "I just didn't have any nerves. I was so comfortable out there today. I don't know how to explain it. But it was just easy."

It was easy enough for Todd Hamilton, the former British Open champion who has had only two top 10s since his victory at Royal Troon five years ago. In his final year of eligibility at the Masters, he had a 70 and was in fourth place at 6-under 138.

Kim was in the group at 4-under 140 that included Garcia and Jim Furyk (74), while Mickelson's late rally put him in a tie for 11th at 141 along with Geoff Ogilvy (70), Steve Stricker (69) and 46-year-old Vijay Singh (70).

"I haven't been making 11 birdies in two days, so to make 11 in one day is pretty special," said the 23-year-old Kim, regarded as the next American star in golf. "And obviously, to do it at Augusta is amazing. Hopefully, I can build off that, and if I keep the putter hot, I like my chances here."

Chad Campbell hits a drive on the ninth hole Friday during second-round play in the Masters.

Padraig Harrington's hopes of a third straight major took a dive with a 73, leaving him seven shots behind. Not only was he crushed by seeing four putts spin around the lip, the Irishman was assessed a one-shot penalty on the 15th hole when a gust moved his ball after he had grounded his putter.

He was tied with Woods, and not about to give up — not this year, on this golf course.

"Here at Augusta, it is not a big deal to be seven behind," Harrington said. "There are a number of players under par and we're expecting a tougher challenge over the weekend."

Campbell has been here before, leading after two rounds in 2006 when he wound up in a tie for third. He pulled away early with great wedge play that set up two birdies and a 7-iron to short range on the fourth hole, one of several where the tees were moved up.

"I don't really know exactly what I learned," Campbell said, referring to his 36-hole lead three years ago, "but I know it's nice that I've been in that position before. There's still a long ways to go, but it's definitely nice to not be on foreign ground."

The cut was at 1-over 145, the lowest since Augusta National went through its first big overhaul to lengthen the golf course.

Among those going home were Ernie Els and Fred Couples for the second straight year, Adam Scott and two of the teenagers — 17-year-old Ryo Ishikawa and 18-year-old Danny Lee, the U.S. Amateur who will turn pro on Monday.

The other teen, 19-year-old Rory McIlroy, was in a tie for sixth at 4 under until he four-putted the 16th green, then took triple bogey on the 18th hole to make the cut on the number.

Schafer: Talented

club last season was stymied when he tested positive for a banned substance that resulted in a 50-game suspension.

"I just tried to come in and show (Cox, hitting coach Terry Pendleton and Braves general manager Frank Wren) some of the stuff I can do," Schafer said. "And that I could handle this from a mental standpoint, as well as physical, and help the team win. Luckily, it all worked out."

It worked because Shafer, who possesses a blend of speed and power with a rocket arm, made it work out. He finished the spring with a .324 batting average and led the Braves with 22 hits and five stolen bases. He also played stellar defense in the outfield.

Still, his spot on the big league roster wasn't secured until the Braves made their final spring cuts.

"Seriously, I didn't know until the day it happened," said Schafer, who beat out Gregor Blanco for the center field job. "I mean, I knew when (center fielder Josh) Anderson got traded I had a better chance, obviously, but Blanco was here all last year, so I didn't know. I was in the competition the whole way, but I don't shy away from competition; it pushes me to become better."

Wren wasn't surprised that Schafer, a third-round pick in the 2005 draft, was able to progress through the Braves organization in just four years.

"We actually thought he had a chance of being on our club last year, but he had his difficulties," Wren said. "As he went through winter ball and we got the reports, we thought he had an outside chance of making our club this year, and he came into spring training prepared to open a lot of people's eyes."

Although it's very early in his major league career, Schafer has dazzled the front office with his play so far. And it's way too early to put Schafer in the talk for rookie of the year honors, something only four other Braves have won before. Rafael Furcal was most recent in 2000.

But Cox wouldn't be surprised if in time Schafer will be in the rookie of the year talk.

"Of course, why not?," Cox said. "Hopefully, he's going to play 162 games for us."

Schafer is just living the moment and soaking up helpful advice of teammates like Chipper Jones, Brian McCann, Jeff Francoeur and Matt Diaz. Still, he's practically awestruck that he's with the big league team.

"The first night, I looked at it like I was living a dream," Schafer said. "But now it's back to, 'Hey, we need to win, and we need to get back to the playoffs.' We're trying to get back to winning, and we want to have fun at the same time."

McCutchen allowed five runs, all but one unearned, on four hits and two walks while striking out three.

Simpson went 2-for-3 with a stolen base and scored twice, while Bradley Grant was 2-for-2 with an RBI and a run and Caleb Moore contributed a hit and a run.

Simpson, the team's 5-foot-2-inch senior shortstop and leadoff hitter, has shown more and more flashes of extra-base power this season. Friday's home run was his second for the year, and he also has eight doubles, which approaches the school record for a single season, Keller said.

"It's just another year of maturity for him, another year of growth," Keller said. "He works hard in the weight room and he's physically gifted. He's one of the stronger guys on the team even though looking at him you don't see that. His biggest strength is to the opposite field and that's a big asset in baseball."

■ Dalton's boys shot a 316 and Northwest Whitfield a 329 in the first round of the Indian Invitational at Rocky Creek Golf Course in Vidalia.

Dalton coach Chad Jordan believed the Catamounts to be among the top 19 in the 38-team field, good enough for today's afternoon flight, while Bruins coach Jim McGrew expected the Bruins to play this morning with the lower cut of the field.

Dylan Coffey's 1-over par 73, the best round among area athletes, led the Cats, who also got counting rounds from Chase Miller (74), Will Morrow (84) and Beau Ridley (85).

For Northwest, Hunter Keener, J.T. Meadows and Ben Harris each shot an 81, while Jordan Black's 86 rounded out the team's score.

■ The Southeast girls finished third behind private school powers Baylor and Girls Preparatory in the Optimist Club meet at Walker Valley High in Charleston, Tenn., on Thursday. The Lady Raiders had 68 points while Baylor won with 129 and GPS was runner-up with 105.

Lacie Roberson won the shot put with a toss of 34 feet, 11 inches, just six inches off the school record.

Briana Sosebee placed second in the discus, but set a school record with a toss of 106 feet, beating Melina White's old mark of 102-7.

Southeast's 400-meter relay team of Jelisa Griffin, Hillary Nevad, Beth Stone and Brianna Coppock finished fourth in a record-setting time of 51.43 seconds to better the previous school record of 51.53.

The Lady Raiders established two marks in events not typically run in Georgia. They had a 1:51 in the 4x200 relay with the same girls that ran in the 400 relay.

And in the 4x800 relay, Southeast had a time of 10:55 and finished third, with Amber Young, Summer Faith, Shelby McFarland and Sosebee on the unit.

Southeast's boys finished 10th in the 27-team field with 23 points. Ooltewah won with 121 points. Southeast's 4x800 relay of Ryan Tavares, Josue Limas, Ross Sutton and Kody Ratcliff ran a 9:06 to establish a record in that event.

■ Valley Point girls 120, North Whitfield 121: Allanah Long led the Lady Green Waves with a 58 and Erin Harden a 62. Alicia Cole had a 60 for the Lady Pioneers and Abby Tate carded a 61.

Griffin Wooden winner

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Blake Griffin keeps picking up trophies on his way to the NBA.

The Oklahoma sophomore won the John R. Wooden Award as college basketball's top player on Friday only three days after he announced that he would turn pro. DeJuan Blair and Tyler Hansbrough, two other finalists, did not show up for the ceremony.

Griffin, who became the first Oklahoma player to win the award, led the nation with 30 double-doubles.

Hawks at home for first round

ATLANTA — Josh Smith scored 30 points and Joe Johnson had 24 to help the Atlanta Hawks clinch the fourth spot in the Eastern Conference with a 122-118 victory over the Indiana Pacers on Friday night.

Al Horford finished with 22 points and 15 rebounds as the Hawks earned home-court advantage in the first round of the playoffs. Atlanta needed either a win or a loss by Miami, which fell by seven in Boston, to wrap up the No. 4 spot.

Indiana, which had won two straight and four of five, was eliminated from playoff contention.

The Hawks won their third straight, all against sub-.500 teams, and are assured of home-court advantage in the first round of the playoffs for the first time since winning a best-of-five series against Detroit in 1999.

Danny Granger had 35 points to lead the Pacers in scoring for the eighth straight game. Jarrett Jack, who finished with 17, matched Indiana's biggest lead at seven midway through the third, but the Hawks never trailed after Johnson hit two free throws to make it 76-74 with 4:04 left in the quarter.

Mike Bibby hit a 3 with 4:24 left to give the Hawks a 12-point lead, the game's biggest, at 113-101. Jack's 3-pointer with 21 seconds remaining cut it to 121-118, but Horford hit one of two free throws to end the scoring.

The Hawks improved to 30-10 at Philips Arena. The Pacers dropped to 11-30 on the road.

CYCLING

Armstrong may get ban by Tour

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

AUSTIN, Texas — Lance Armstrong believes French doping officials may ban him from riding in this summer's Tour de France over a report that he violated protocols during a recent drug test.

"There's a very high likelihood that they prohibit me from riding in the Tour," a somber Armstrong said Friday in a video statement posted on his Web site. "It's too bad. The tour is something I love dearly."

France's anti-doping agency, known as AFLD, has said the American did not fully cooperate with a drug tester when he showed up at Armstrong's home in France to collect blood, urine and hair samples from the cyclist on March 17.

Although no banned substances were found, the dispute revolves around a 20-minute delay when Armstrong went inside the house and took a shower while his assistants checked the tester's credentials.

The seven-time Tour winner said he asked the tester for permission to go inside and it was granted. The AFLD says Armstrong "did not respect the obligation to remain under the direct and permanent observation" of the tester.

According to Armstrong, the tester wrote "no" on the section of the official paperwork that asks if there was anything irregular about the test.

ATHLETE OF WEEK

MATT HAMILTON/The Daily Citizen

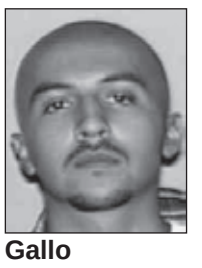
At the 35th Rotary Invitational track and field meet at Dalton High last weekend, Northwest Whitfield's Morgan Williams was a star among stars. On a day in which four different meet records were either broken or tied, the Lady Bruin took home the Tom Jones Award, given to the individual who amassed the most points. Williams turned in two season-best times in winning the 800-meter run (2:22.15) and placing second in the 400 (57.3) to collect 18 points. For her accomplishments, Williams is The Daily Citizen Athlete of the Week.

PRO BASEBALL: LOS ANGELES ANGELS

Murder charges filed

BY GILLIAN FLACCUS
Associated Press Writer

SANTA ANA, Calif. — A 22-year-old man was charged with three murder counts and drunken driving Friday in the crash that killed Los Angeles Angels rookie pitcher Nick Adenhart and two others.



Gallo

Andrew Thomas Gallo ran a red light in his minivan early Thursday and broadsided a car carrying Adenhart and three friends, police said.

"At the time of the crash, Mr. Gallo's blood-alcohol content is estimated to be almost three times the legal limit," Orange County District Attorney Tony Rackauckas said.

Gallo could receive almost 55 years to life in prison if convicted of all charges, Rackauckas said.

Adenhart died at a hospital, hours after pitching six scoreless innings in his season debut against Oakland.

He was to be remembered before the start of Friday night's Angels game against the Boston Red Sox.

"This Angel and his two friends were too young to be sent to heaven but the defendant selfishly and recklessly (got) behind the wheel after getting drunk. They didn't have a choice. Bad decision, blink of an eye, five lives ended, including the defendant's life is wrecked," Rackauckas said at a news conference.

Gallo will likely be assigned a public defender at his first court appearance, scheduled for Monday.

Gallo also was charged with driving under the influence causing injury, and driving with a blood-alcohol level over .08 percent causing injury with a sentencing enhancement that he personally inflicted great bodily injury.

In addition, he was charged with fleeing the scene of a traffic accident causing death or injury.

Fullerton police Lt. Kevin Hamilton said homicide detectives interviewed Gallo for nearly four hours Thursday. "There was a lot to talk about," Hamilton said, without disclosing details.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL: TENNESSEE SPRING PRACTICE

Vols 'O' must step up

By Beth Rucker
Associated Press Writer

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Tennessee's first-team defense is playing like a championship squad during spring practice, coach Lane Kiffin said after Friday's scrimmage.

Now to get the rest of the team up to speed.

The defensive starters sacked quarterback Jonathan Crompton, who was playing for the first-team offense, seven times. He fumbled on one sack and was downed by Chris Walker in the end zone for a safety on another.

"That (No.) 1 defense is a special unit," Kiffin said. "You feel their confidence. That's what you need your team to be. When you eventually get your whole team that way you become a championship team.

"We've got to do a lot better job on the other side," he said.

Starting on the offensive line were tackles Cody Pope, Chris Scott and Jarrod Shaw and guards Jacques McClendon and Vladimir Richard.

Despite the line's difficulty in protecting the quarterback, Kiffin praised Crompton and second-string quarterback B.J. Coleman for their performances. After a slow start, both engineered long drives, moved around in the pocket and made plays on their feet.

Kiffin

Crompton

Crompton, a redshirt senior, finished 8-for-11 for 91 yards with no touchdowns or interceptions, and Coleman, a sophomore, finished 11-for-16 with 151 yards, two touchdowns and no interceptions.

"Our first-team defense is outstanding. That's why they're at Tennessee," Crompton said. "They proved last year that they were good enough. Especially with the defensive staff that we've got in this year, that's what we expect. But we also expect a whole heck of a lot out of our offense, too. That's part of it, so we're going to come out here and compete every day."

Nick Stephens, playing in his first scrimmage after sitting out much of the spring recovering from a broken wrist, completed two passes for the third string for 28 yards and a touchdown.

"I'm starting to understand their personalities, starting to understand how they are in the huddle," Kiffin said. "It's really good for me to get a chance to be out here all the time in the huddle, so I get a good handle on them."

Tauren Poole, playing for the second team, led the ground game with 80 yards rushing on 11 carries and scored on a 1-yard run. Montario Hardesty started and ran eight times for 38 yards.

Ben Bartholomew had four catches for 53 yards and caught a 14-yard scoring strike from Coleman. Ahmad Paige caught a 23-yard TD pass from Stephens. Starter Quintin Hancock caught Hancock three passes for 51 yards.

BRIDGE

It only hurts for a minute

Today's hand features a play that most players would term "fancy." We don't know whether that adjective is appropriate or not, but there can be little doubt that declarer made the right play in the circumstances he encountered.

South won the opening spade lead with the king and, with only five top tricks in view, naturally elected to try to establish dummy's clubs.

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT

Opening lead — jack of spades.

So he led the jack of clubs at trick two and let it ride after West followed with the eight. East, of course, made the proper play of allowing the jack to hold the trick.

Declarer then led the club five and, after West produced the ten, had to decide whether or not to repeat the finesse.

After some torturous moments, South concluded that if West, who had already followed with the eight and ten, had started with either the K-10-8 or K-10-9-8, he would have covered the jack with the king on the preceding trick. Declarer therefore credited the king to East and so played the ace from dummy.

Since there was still no hope of making nine tricks without bringing home dummy's clubs, South next led another club from dummy and on it discarded his ace of spades!

This "fancy" play guaranteed an entry to dummy — and therefore nine sure tricks — regardless of how the remaining cards were divided. A spade return by East would be taken by dummy's queen, while a low heart or diamond return would be ducked by South. Thus, the queen of whatever suit East led was sure to become an entry to dummy's three remaining clubs.

Observe that any other discard but the spade ace at trick four would have resulted in defeat.

South's play was, of course, highly unusual. Maybe it could even be called fancy. But, given the circumstances, it was clearly the right play.

It's time for a new beginning. Once you rearrange your life, you will discover the opportunities that are within reach. Your numbers are 6, 14, 17, 22, 28, 31, 46

Eugenia Last

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You can't be or do everything for everyone. Giving in to the demands others make on you or paying for everyone's way has to stop. It's time to put yourself first and foremost. 3 stars

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Emotions will be on the rise if you let personal matters and gossip get to you. Don't underestimate what others will do to get your attention. Concentrate on change but not necessarily what everyone is expecting you to do. 3 stars

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Look for an opening and you will be able to make an upward move. Your ideas are good and people will listen to what you have to say. Take action in a professional and reputable way. 3 stars

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You may want to consider making some professional changes or looking into starting your own small business. Network or talk to people with similar interests. Now is the time to make some alterations at home. 5 stars

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You'll have to be careful not to promise too much or put yourself in an uncomfortable position. Emotions will be difficult to control, so don't say something out of anger or spite. Instead, opt for a lower profile. 2 stars

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): If you take on too much or go overboard in any way, you will miss something worthwhile. Travel or venture down new avenues and discover what can enrich your life and bring you in contact with some interesting people. Less will be more and will eliminate stress. 4 stars

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): This is no time to procrastinate or to let others take advantage of you. You have way too much to offer to allow meddling or any other kind of interference. Set your mind on what you want to do and who you want to be around and make it happen. 3 stars

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Enjoy some time with friends, your children or your lover. The experience you have will inspire you and motivate you to complete something you started some time ago. Love is looking very favorable. 3 stars

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Don't give in to ultimatums but don't let anger overcome you either. You will be walking a fine line. Now is not the time to make personal changes. Sit back and let everyone else make a move before you decide. 3 stars

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): There is something limiting you with regard to an agreement, contract, bank or investment option or an obligation you have. Get rid of any negatives and replace them swiftly with something or someone beneficial. Now is the time to look at professional opportunities. 4 stars

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Don't cave under pressure. Emotional blackmail cannot be the deciding factor in an important issue. Stand tall and think straight. An added responsibility can be turned into an asset if you handle it properly. 2 stars

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Things are looking up in the finance department and gains are evident. However, don't get greedy or your benefits will be short-lived due to unusual circumstances. Fair play and hard work will lead to victory. 5 stars

Skipper recaptured trying to escape

NAIROBI, Kenya — An American skipper held hostage by pirates tried to swim to freedom Friday but was recaptured seconds later when the bandits opened fire within view of a U.S. destroyer. Four Somali pirates, who are demanding a ransom, were ready to kill Capt. Richard Phillips if they are attacked, according to a Somali in contact with the captors. The high seas drama turned more complex and potentially deadly in its third day as both pirates and American forces rushed reinforcements to the scene several hundred miles off the coast of Somalia.

Tornado kills 2, injures 41 in Tenn.

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. — A tornado killed a woman and her 9-week-old infant and also injured dozens Friday in Middle Tennessee as a line of storms lifted homes, ripped off roofs and dumped hail in the Southeast. Elsewhere, a tornado touched down in southwestern Kentucky, injuring two people and destroying homes. A possible tornado was reported in northeast Alabama. And large hail fell in North Carolina. At least 41 people were hurt in Rutherford County, Tenn., four of them critically, in the aftermath of a storm system that killed three in western Arkansas a day earlier. In Murfreesboro, at least three dozen homes were destroyed.

Deficit hits March record $192.3B

WASHINGTON — The Treasury Department said Friday that the budget deficit increased by $192.3 billion in March, and is near $1 trillion just halfway through the budget year, as costs of the financial bailout and recession mount. Last month's deficit, a record for March, was significantly higher than the $150 billion that economists expected. The deficit already totals $956.8 billion for the first six months of the budget year, also a record for that period.

5 Americans killed in Mosul

BAGHDAD — A suicide truck driver detonated a ton of explosives near a police headquarters in the northern city of Mosul on Friday, killing five American soldiers in the deadliest attack against U.S. troops in more than a year. The U.S. military said Iraqi police were the bomber's target and that the Americans were caught up as bystanders. The horrific blast, believed to have been carried out by Sunni extremists, is likely to increase pressure on Iraq's prime minister to ask American combat troops to stay in Mosul after the June 30 deadline for them to pull out of Iraqi cities.

Module name to be announced Tuesday

NEW YORK — Stephen Colbert is still clinging to hope that NASA will name a new room at the international space station after him. The space agency said Friday it would announce the name of the module Tuesday on Comedy Central's "The Colbert Report." Astronaut Sunita Williams will appear on the program. The agency held an online contest, letting the public vote on a name for a future addition to the station. "Colbert" beat out NASA's four suggested options: Serenity, Legacy, Earthrise and Venture. The comedian said in a statement: "I certainly hope NASA does the right thing. Just kidding. I hope they name it after me."

Dalton teen arrested after wreck

BY KEVIN MYRICK
Rome News-Tribune Staff Writer

A Dalton teen was jailed and later released Friday morning with $3,166 in bail after he was involved in a wreck Thursday at Turner McCall Boulevard and Martha Berry Boulevard, reports stated.

According to Rome police reports:

Anthony Henry Acevedo, 19, of Dalton, was driving a 1995 Isuzu Rodeo and reportedly side swiped a red 2001 Toyota Sienna, and was pulled over blocks later by police.

He told police he didn't realize he'd hit the van, and police later found he was driving on a suspended license.

He was jailed and released on misdemeanor charges of driving on a suspended license, making an improper right turn, failure to stop or return to the scene of an accident and improper passing.

Kobelco will lay off 66 at Calhoun plant

BY JOHN M. WILLIS
Calhoun Times

Kobelco Construction Machinery, which builds bulldozers and hydraulic excavators, said it plans to lay off 66 employees at its Calhoun plant as demand for heavy equipment has dropped.

In addition to the 66 layoffs, the company said it also plans to reduce the hours of 78 employees at its plant at 501 Richardson Road.

Plant manager Steve Van Zant said earlier that the company planned to have several down weeks during 2009 after orders for heavy construction machinery dropped about 25 percent for the year.

The company had instituted work reductions at the Calhoun plant around the first of the year but is now converting some of those to separations, according to a letter from Lee Schwartz, human resources director of the Racine, Wis.-based company.

The Calhoun facility has been manufacturing Kobelco machines since 1990 and has produced more than 22,000 excavators. The plant also manufactures excavators and dozers for the New Holland Construction brand.

In 2007, Kobelco invested $10.5 million at the Calhoun plant, expanding manufacturing operations into a new 52,000-square-foot building. The expansion included an upgrade of the production machinery at the existing plant.

"We cannot predict when orders may rebound," Schwartz said.

Major construction projects nationwide have slowed during the recession. A New York Building Congress report projects construction spending will slide 22 percent to $26.2 billion by 2010, including a nearly 30 percent drop in nonresidential construction to $7.1 billion.

Government construction spending is expected to slip 15 percent to $14.4 billion by 2010. It is unknown how much the federal stimulus package will impact the government spending projections.

DEAR ABBY

Family feuds over passing of plate from bargain buffet

Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: We recently got together with extended family to celebrate a child's birthday at a family-oriented restaurant. One of the adults began bragging about how she had saved money because she paid for only one salad plate from the "all you can eat" salad bar.

When she finished eating her salad, she passed her plate to another family member, who then had his fill and passed the plate along until all their immediate family members had eaten.

We told her it was dishonest, that she's stealing food from the restaurant because she didn't pay for all the salads that were actually consumed by her family. She claimed that it wasn't dishonest because it's "all" you can eat. This has caused a huge disagreement within the family. What say you? — STEAMED AT THE SALAD BAR IN COLORADO

DEAR STEAMED: Of course it's dishonest; it's stealing. The sign read, "All you can eat," not "All you and your family can eat — for the price of one."

I don't know what this person's financial status is, but from where I sit, she appears to be morally bankrupt, and she's passing along her lack of ethics to the next generation. Keep your distance. Folks like this are apt to help themselves to anything that isn't nailed down.

DEAR ABBY: I have a rare autoimmune disease that will end my life within a couple of years. After not dating for 15 years, I met a wonderful man. Even though I tried not to, we fell in love. I think I should break it off with him because he has lost two wives to cancer and I don't want him hurt again.

Right now my health is still halfway decent, and we can go out and have a great time together. But all that's going to happen is we will grow closer and closer, and he's the one who will lose in the long run.

He doesn't deserve to lose someone else he loves. It's not fair. Is it wrong to keep dating him, or should I break it off while we still have good memories? — SLOWLY DYING IN TEXAS

DEAR SLOWLY DYING: Is this gentleman aware of your illness and the prognosis? If the answer is yes, then he is fully aware of what will eventually happen — and you should allow him to have a say in whether the relationship continues or not. No one is guaranteed tomorrow, next week or next year. My advice is to enjoy every precious minute you have together to the fullest, stop feeling guilty about it and live in the present.
